OUTDOOR KITCHEN CO.

Our Story

We set out to create a line of grills and outdoor kitchen products that wouldn't break down.

That was the beginning for Blaze. We studied and inspected what was currently on the market, identified the weaknesses and then started from scratch. What emerged was a collection of products that were easy to use and engineered to last, backed by a best-in-class lifetime warranty*—because we mean it.

PREMIUM LTE GRIDDLE

 BLAZE

Blaze Premium LTE Griddle

Blaze got in the griddle game with this Premium LTE model, and the results are what you would expect from the leading premium grill brand.

Just like with its gas grill counterpart, we chose heavy-duty, 304-grade stainless steel for maximum durability, along with the LTE Series' LED red control knob illumination.

KAMADO GRILL

Blaze 20-Inch Cast Aluminum Kamado Grill

The modern kamado-style grill is widely considered one of the most versatile grills on the market—and for good reason.

Kamados maintain consistent temperatures as low as 225°F and as high as 750°F and up. Their vent systems allow grillers to precisely control airflow, essentially turning the grill into a wood-fired oven.

Blaze took the lessons learned from centuries of kamado-style cooking, then introduced a modern twist by building this patented kamado with solid cast aluminum measuring 1 inch thick.

Why cast aluminum? This design provides unparalleled durability—whether it's exposed to extreme saltwater or any other conditions that would wreak havoc on a ceramic kamado—plus the same outstanding temperature control and heat retention traditional kamados are so well known for.

With a lifetime warranty on the cast aluminum body and other key components, kamado purists can confidently break from tradition to experience a superior grill engineered for luxury cooking.

Also available as a built-in model, in addition to a freestanding unit.

Cooking Grid: 20-inch diameter stainless steel hex-shaped cooking surface provides exceptional heat retention and beautiful sear marks.

Hinged Cooking Surface: A hinged cooking surface allows for the convenient addition of wood or charcoal without removing the grates.

Lift Assist: Pre-installed lid hinge with lift assist allows for easy burping and opening of the kamado.

Tongue and Groove Seal: Instead of the traditional gasket design, which often needs replacement because of wear and tear over time, Blaze chose an exceptional tongue-and-groove seal to help the lid last longer and better lock in smoke.

Molded Exhaust Cap: Cast-molded exhaust cap allows for precise heat control.

1-inch Thick Cast Aluminum: This design adds unparalleled durability.

BLAZE CHARCOAL GRILL

Why should our approach to building the best all-around grills be limited to one fuel type?

We purposefully engineered the Blaze Charcoal Grill with the same thought that goes into all our products, starting with heavy-duty, 304-grade stainless steel construction for rugged durability in the outdoors.

Of course, we followed that up with our best-in-class lifetime warranty, not to mention a double-lined grill hood that wards off heat discoloration and efficiently traps heat. And once you get under that hood, you will find even more to love about our affordable, commercial-style charcoal grill.

Hook-and-hang cooking grids make it possible to add charcoal and wood while cooking so your sizzle never has to stop.

Adjustable charcoal tray lends versatility; it can be lowered closer to the coals for high-heat grilling, or raised when you want to slow-cook.

Rear vent can be adjusted for precise airflow control, which in turn affects temperature.

Removable charcoal tray and full-width, pull-out ash pan lead to hassle-free cleaning.

Enjoy your Blaze grill freestanding on a cart or built right into your outdoor kitchen island.

OUTDOOR PIZZA OVEN

Blaze 26-Inch Outdoor Pizza Oven

Pleasing to the eye and practical, the Blaze Pizza Oven produces all varieties of restaurant-quality pizza and with a built-in rotisserie rod and cooking racks, you'll just as easily prepare a sumptuous rack of lamb as a delicious personal pie.

After all, the Blaze Pizza Oven is designed to be a functional outdoor oven, which means you can cook just about anything in it and do so in the beauty of the backyard. Available in freestanding, countertop, and built-in configurations.

A 17-inch rotating ceramic pizza stone provides an even bake and prevents the need to hand-twirl pizza.

The included vertical rotisserie rod with drip tray and dual cooking racks allows for many food options in addition to pizza.

Digital screen with connected meat probes offers the most accurate cooking temperatures.

Interior lighting and double-pane glass oven doors remove the need to regularly open oven to check food, preventing heat loss.

Reaches temperatures as high as 550°F while using the dual cooking racks with the stone surface capable of hitting 700°F.

STAINLESS STEEL OUTDOOR KITCHEN ISLAND

The Blaze Stainless Steel Island allows you to add an outdoor kitchen to your home without any of the hard work.

Designed to be set and ready in only a few hours, this island doesn't require surveying, pouring concrete, framing an island or cabinets, applying a stone or brick facing, or installing a countertop.

Best of all, it's made to fit a 32-inch built-in Blaze Premium LTE or LTE+, one of the bestselling grills in our history.*

Its stainless steel construction and ample storage make for a clean, complete unit that is just as easily disassembled as it is constructed, should you move or want to change locations.

An easy-to-assemble island paired with a Blaze Premium LTE or LTE+ grill that will have you set up and cooking in an afternoon.

Both the island and grill are constructed with rust- and corrosion-resistant 304 stainless steel for a streamlined outdoor aesthetic.

Complete with an under-the-grill cabinet and multiple soft-close drawers for ample storage space, plus a pull-out trash bin.

Backed by a best-in-class, lifetime warranty to give you ultimate peace of mind.

When purchased through a dealer, the Blaze Stainless Steel Island does not come included with a Premium LTE or LTE+. Each component is sold separately.*

That much size and power allow our hoods to be installed farther from the grill than other hoods, creating a cleaner and less cluttered cooking area.
